On behalf of the Chicago Bulls, I am pleased to invite you to our first-ever Jewish Community Night on Saturday, December 22, 2001. You will have the chance to cheer on the Bulls as they face the Minnesota Timberwolves, led by NBA All-Star and Chicago native Kevin Garnett.

You will also have the opportunity to meet and hear Bob Love at a pre-game presentation on The Ups and Downs of Sports and Life. After an All-Star NBA career with the Bulls, Bob fell on tough times. But with perseverance, he overcame many obstacles and today is the team's Director of Community Affairs, and a nationally acclaimed motivational speaker. Bob will be joined by inspirational speaker Rabbi James Gordon, author of "Pray Ball! The Spiritual Insights of a Jewish Sports Fan."

Synagogues, youth groups, men's clubs, sisterhoods, schools and other Jewish organizations have been invited to attend this very special event. A complimentary pair of tickets will be given to each organization for every 50 tickets ordered. Contributions of Bulls memorabilia will be made to the three organizations that bring the most fans. Youth who attend will also receive a special Bulls souvenir.

Please use the enclosed form to order your tickets to Jewish Community Night and I encourage you to distribute this form to members of your congregation. Order forms can also be obtained by visiting bulls.com and clicking on Group Events. If you would like to hear Rabbi Gordon in conjunction with another game, feel free to call him at (847) 913-1348. A 2001-02 schedule is enclosed. For further details regarding Jewish Community Night or other games with group discounts, please contact me at (312) 455-4130.

I look forward to speaking with you soon, and personally meeting you on December 22nd. On behalf of the Chicago Bulls, I wish you a happy, healthy and peaceful New Year.

Best wishes,

Jacqui Powers
